privilege had precedence over the election case.

The recognition of Mr. Enloe at least partially upset McKinley's plan, and at least postponed the execution of his threat to promptly unseat Venable. In thus threatening, McKinley was simply the mouthpiece of Reed.

In addition to other influences is the fact hitherto stated in The Trims that not a few Republicans hold the opinion that Langston has no valid claim to the seat, and while unwilling to openly defy their party, these Republicans will covertly co-operate with the Democratis.

Mr. Enloe's question of privilege goes over until fo-inorrow as unfinished business. This will help the Democrats in their light for Mr. Venable.

CHARGES PROVED AGAINST RAUM.

After weeks of indefratigable effort Representative Cooper, assisted by the Democrats of the Raum Investigating Committee, has succeeded in establishing his original charge, to wit: That Commissioner Raum had used his power, influence, and authority to place the stock of his refrigerator company ameng his subordinates, the employes of the Pension Bureau.

During the entire investigation the authors of the charges have been confronted by evasions, by roundabout denials, and by all sorts of subterfuges. Commissioner Raum and his allies swore most emphatically that no officer or employed of the Pension Office had or held any stock in the refrigerator company.

To-day the investigation proceeded in a frigerator company.

To-day the investigation proceeded in a listless sort of manner for some time, but suddenly it was invested with renewed interest. It was shown that there is a subcompany subordinate to the parent company, and organized by it, which controls the territory only of the District of Columbia. This sub-company has for its secretary Bradley Tanner, private secretary of Commissioner Raum, and it was confessed by Raum and by Bradley Tanner that the latter is a stock-holder in the sub-company, it was shown that Commissioner Raum has been hiding behind a subterfuge; that his oaths of denial have been construed by him to apply only to the present company, while as a matter of fact the Pension-office stock-holders are interested in the sub-or local Company, Representative Lewis then offered a resolution, recting the fact that on a recent occasion Commissioner Raum voluntarily declared before the committee that if it could be shown that a single employe of the Pension Bureau was interested in the refrigerator company he would freely assent to the widest latitude of inquiry even to taking testimony as to the value of the patent. After rectifing the sederation. Mr. Lovvis' resolution proposed to impuir into the value of the patent. The Republican members voted down the resolution, despite the fact that Mr. Cooper had a letter from a New York man stating that he had been swindled out of $50,000 by this sampatent, and that he has a suit now pending to recover.

bill with Senate amendments with the recommendation that the amendments be nonconcurred in. This was at once considered in Committee of the Whole, and Mr. McKinley offered a resolution from the Committee on Rules, but before it could be read Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, rose to a question of privilege. He offered the following resolution: "Resolved, that the Clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to communicate to the Senate the fact that the House resents and condemns the utter-

The heavy rains of the past two days filled all the ditches and culverts in the city to overdowing. Persons coming in from the country found considerable difficulty in crossing the various streams. The water did considerable damage in some places.

Some new developments are expected in regard to the dama now being constructed across the river by the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Company. This dam shuts off the city's water supply almost entirely, and the water company is protesting against its construction. The City Council has called the attention of the City Attorney to the matter, and the Chesapcake and Ohlo Bailway Company, who own the water-power on this side of the river, are also joining in the protest, as the dam will considerably lessen the supply of water in the canal.
